

Litigation Hold Notice

Harrow Bay export cable 2 – Severn Subsea Cables (WE-CON-2025-031)

Priya Nair · 29 July 2026 · LEG-HOLD-2026-02

Do not delete, alter or discard any document or data described below until Legal releases this hold in writing.

Why you are receiving this notice

On 21 July 2026 Severn Subsea Cables Ltd notified a failed factory acceptance test on export cable 2 for Harrow Bay and an expected delivery delay of approximately eight weeks (risk HB-RISK-017). Weyland has served a notice of delay and reserved its rights, including liquidated damages and claims for re-sequencing costs. A dispute is reasonably foreseeable.

What you must preserve

- All emails, chats, meeting notes and files relating to the cable contract WE-CON-2025-031, the factory acceptance tests, the cable lay schedule and vessel planning – from 1 January 2025 onwards.
- Project schedules (all baselines and updates), risk register entries, cost reports and change requests.
- Correspondence with Severn Subsea Cables, the marine warranty surveyor and the lenders' technical adviser.
- Photos, test reports and inspection records from the Severn factory visits.
- Personal notes and files on laptops, phones and in personal folders.
